That will be the Small Robes Band, said my father. The Small Robes! we all whispered. That was our own band. All our relatives on my father s side were members of it. Yes, the Small Robes, of course, my father went on. No other band of the Pikuni ever camps off by itself. And how crazy they are to do so away down here so close to the Crow country. Well, my woman, well, my children, our place is with them. We must go to them this night, warn them of the coming of the Crows, and help them in the fight. Eighty lodges against the whole Crow tribe! It looks hopeless, but something may happen; maybe the gods are with our people. How shall we go to them? my mother asked. Why, as soon as the camp quiets down, as soon as every one is asleep, we shall sneak out and take the first four horses we can find, and go-- And leave everything here, our all! This time We shall be afoot, my mother put in. Well, before we start I shall give everything to Crow Woman. No, you mustn t do that, said my father. Don t you see that that would get her into trouble -- that she would be accused of warning us to go? True, I did not think of that, my mother agreed. She has been our true friend, yes,...
