By Gene Grossman

Magic Lamp Press. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 102 pages. There's a new detective in town, and aside from the fact that she's only 12 years old and less than 4 feet tall, she's made a big splash with local law enforcement agencies, who have repeatedly accepted her assistance in the solving of crimes. Her amazing computer skills and library of crime-fighting software, mostly borrowed from an unknowing prosecutor's computer, have given her the experience to tackle this bank robbery case on her own without the help of attorney Peter Sharp, her legal guardian and this one's a doozy of a mystery. The Great Brodini, a well-known hypnotist and magician, is writing a book entitled How to Get Away With Robbing a Bank, and to boost sales of the book, he plans to pull off the perfect bank robbery and then beat the case in court. The only problem with his plan is that he didn't plan on going up against the crime-solving abilities of little Suzi, who has been waiting for an opportunity to expose this magician and wannabe crime-solver as the faker she believes he is and retain her place as local law enforcement's go-to person for technical...
